Draw -

this map shows most of the most heavily impacted parts of the river - though the entire system has surely been impacted by the railroad which runs through the entire watershed.

You can see the dike (or fill, if you prefer) on the east, or lower part of the river. The picture suggests at least how the river has been changed

Amber