

AIR QUALITY ALERT IN EFFECT

BOTH FAIRBANKS & NORTH POLE – STAGE 2 ALERT: No burning without a No Other Adequate Source of Heat (NOASH) waiver.

Issued: Friday, February 2, 2018 @ 4:00pm

Expires: Monday, February 5, 2018 @ 4:00pm

Current Health Warning:

Fairbanks and North Pole – Unhealthy for Sensitive Groups, people with respiratory or heart disease, the elderly and children should avoid prolonged exertion.

A Stage 1 restriction may be called once 12 to 24 hour average levels are forecast or have reached 25ug/m³, and a Stage 2 restriction may be called once 12 to 24 hour average levels are forecast or have reached 35ug/m³ or worse. For the most current AQI category and its associated health warning, visit AQFairbanks.com or call 907-459-1234.

Forecast: The NWS forecast and local conditions in Fairbanks and North Pole are resulting in poor to very poor dispersion. We are forecasting both Fairbanks and North Pole air quality to remain Unhealthy Sensitive Groups to Unhealthy, with 24hr average PM_{2.5} values >35ug/m³.

Note: Air Quality readings are from monitoring stations in Fairbanks and North Pole, and may not be representative of your neighborhood. If you are sensitive to air pollution, or experience any respiratory problems, please follow the instructions of your physician.

REMINDER ... ALL OPEN BURNING IS PROHIBITED in the Borough's PM_{2.5} Nonattainment area from November 1st – March 31st, including the use of burn barrels. This does not include recreational fires such as bonfires, campfires, or ceremonial fires.

For more information visit AQFairbanks.com or call 459-1234.

*What does a Stage 2 Alert mean?

MANDATORY - No fuel source may be added to the combustion chamber or firebox of any solid fuel burning appliance or waste oil burning appliance, unless you have a valid No Other Adequate Source of Heat (NOASH) waiver.

Residents should rely instead on their home's cleaner source of heat (such as a gas or fuel oil fired furnace or boiler or electric baseboard heaters) until the Stage 2 alert is cancelled.

This does not apply during a power outage.
