

Mary Hausler

Alaska's spill prevention and response rules are working just fine, and ADEC should not waste our public dollars on a process that will most surely rollback safeguards for Alaska's prized fisheries and our coastal communities. ADEC has plenty of other important issues to work on. Don't waste time and tax dollars on rolling back these rules that are already working. Protect our waterways! Stop trying to make it easier for corporations to pollute.