

Kenai River Outreach and Monitoring

Kenai Watershed Forum, $47,075

This project addresses the Kenai River, a priority water with water quality and habitat concerns. This project will follow-up on previous Kenai River studies by addressing two specific water quality concerns, petroleum and fecal coliform bacteria in the river. The results will address concerns about pollutants entering the Kenai River, refine information about the possible sources of those pollutants, and provide information for future water management actions.
